Hazel Eleanor (Wells) Cètoute

March 7, 1939 – November 27, 2014

God called Hazel Eleanor (Wells) Cètoute home to rest on November 27, 2014. Eleanor as she was so fondly called was born to the late Simon and Essie Wells on March 7, 1939 in Boston, Massachusetts. She was joined in Holy Matrimony to the late Pierre (P) M. Cètoute for 32 years

She confessed to Christ at an early age and is a member of Metropolitan Baptist Church. She was educated in the Boston Public School. Upon graduation from high school she took courses in the Early Childhood Education receiving a degree from Roxbury Community College. Above all, her passion was children. She dearly loved children.

Eleanor received many awards and recognition throughout fifty years of her life caring for them. She went out of her way to help anyone in need. Eleanor tried to make a difference whether it was food from her cabinet, babysitting or clothes off her back. She ensured everyone had their needs met. Her love, knowledge and attention to plants were endless. She always ensured her plants (babies) were cared for in her absence.

She was funny, generous and always told it like it was.

Eleanor was preceded in death by her husband Pierre (p) Cètoute, daughter Lenora (Wise) Fennell, parents Simon and Essie Wells, brothers: Fred Wells, William Wells, John Wells and John Wesson and her sisters: Louise Corbin, Ruth Hearn, and Clara Glass.

She leaves to cherish her memories; Children: Denise Watson, Justin Cètoute, Renè Heughan, and Estelle Heughan; Siblings: Marjorie Perkins, Arlene Wells; and Ernest Wells Sr.; Grandchildren: Eric Watson, Stephanie Watson, Christopher Watson, Joeline Wise Fennell, Rashaude Wise Fennell, and Jayda Cètoute; Childhood friends: Doelta Lorde and Mary Silcott; Extended Family: Ken Gilmartin, Lemanja Wells. She also left to cherish her memories numerous nieces, nephews, cousins and a host of extended family members and friends.
